

Student Discipline

Corbett schools have a fine tradition of good discipline. However, parents, teachers and administrators have asked that rules governing discipline and conduct be written down so that each group may know what is required. They feel, by working together under clearly stated and consistently enforced regulations, we can continue Corbett's tradition for firm and fair discipline.

Definition

Discipline is the positive direction of behavior toward established standards of conduct, fully understood and based upon reason, judgment and the rights of others.

Ideal discipline is self-directed and self-controlled. Schools, community and parents share the responsibility for helping students develop self-discipline.

Discipline is necessary to assure an orderly environment in which each person may live and learn to his/her full capabilities in harmony with others.

When self-control falters and self-discipline fails, disciplinary forces outside the individual must be imposed to protect the rights of others.

In Corbett schools, as in the community at large, certain rules and procedures are established to guide students through constructive growth and into mature adulthood. The rules and procedures are basically the same from kindergarten through grade 12. Parents, teachers and others responsible for the welfare and education of these students must cooperate to interpret and enforce these rules.

Consequences

A violation of school rules may result in a conference with the student, notification of parents and appropriate disciplinary action that may include detention, suspension or expulsion.

In addition to the rules and regulations of the Corbett schools outlined here, all persons are expected to obey the laws of the State of Oregon and of the United States. On school property violation of public law in the following categories will result in action by school authorities regardless of whether or not criminal charges are pressed: arson; assault; burglary; bomb threats; extortion or blackmail; larceny; vandalism; robbery; trespassing; unlawful interference with or harassment of school authorities.
