

Nonschool-Sponsored Trips or Excursions

District staff or outside agencies may not solicit students for privately arranged trips, excursions, or foreign study tours except in a manner that is clearly differentiated and separate from any and all district staff time, resources and facilities. Students and parents must be specifically and clearly informed that such trips have no relationship to the district. Participation in such travel by employees and students shall be subject to the district's leave and attendance policies. Promotional activities, advertising and literature shall not include the name of the individual school or district, nor shall such imply endorsement by the district. The district assumes no liability for students and staff participating in such trips.
