Special Education - Participation in Regular Education Programs

The ESD ensures that to the maximum extent appropriate, children with disabilities, ages birth to 21, including children in public or private institutions or other care facilities, are educated with children who are nondisabled.

Special classes, separate schooling or other removal of children with disabilities from the regular educational environment occurs only if the nature or severity of the disability is such that education in regular classes with the use of supplementary aids and services cannot be achieved satisfactorily. A child with a disability is not removed from education in age-appropriate regular classrooms solely because of needed modifications in the general curriculum.
