Revised/Readopted: 2/24/04
Orig. Code(s): IIAD

Special Interest Materials

In general, supplementary printed materials from nonschool sources, software or web links, should have the approval of the superintendent/designee before being used in the schools. This approval may be given to materials that are of obvious educational quality, which supplement and enrich text and reference book materials for definite school courses, and are timely.

Advertising materials from nonschool sources should not be displayed or distributed in the schools or on the school grounds. Students may not be used as agents for distributing nonschool materials without the approval of the superintendent.

Teachers may use special aids such as models, films, slides, pictures, charts, software, web links and exhibits for educational purposes with the approval of the principal even though these materials may bear the name of a commercial business firm that provided the aid.

Educational films, videos and DVD's secured from or through commercial sources, software and web links will be approved by the principal prior to their use in the schools.

All copyright laws regulating the use of such materials will be strictly followed.
