Homework

“Homework” refers to an assignment to be prepared outside of class or during a period of supervised study in school. The purposes of homework are to improve the learning processes, to aid in the mastery of skills, and to create and stimulate interest on the part of the student. Homework should be meaningful and the purposes of it should be clearly understood by the student. Homework assignments should take into consideration the availability of materials and resources at home and at school.

The type, frequency and quantity of homework assigned should be determined by the needs of the individual student and should not require additional instruction beyond the class period, which would require parents to supplement instruction. Homework should be an application or adaption of a classroom experience; it should not be assigned for disciplinary purposes.
