Student Gifts and Solicitations

No person may solicit money or sell items to students or staff without the prior approval of the principal. Building principals may give permission to the students in their building to raise funds for student activities. Control of all funds is the responsibility of the principal.

Students may not solicit staff during their on-duty hours, except as approved by the principal.

Students shall be discouraged from giving gifts to staff members. The Board of Education considers letters of gratitude and appreciation more appropriate.

Distribution of flyers or other materials to students will be approved by the superintendent or his/her designee.
