Alternative Education Programs Following Expulsion**

Prior to a student leaving school or a student's expulsion, the district will propose in writing to the student or student's parents appropriate, accessible educational alternatives. Such alternative education programs will be instructional and may be combined with counseling.

The proposal of potential alternative education programs will be hand-delivered or sent by certified mail to assure that the parent receives it prior to the time of the actual expulsion or leaving school.

Appropriate accessible alternative education programs may be either public or private (non-sectarian). Programs may be provided by the district as a separate school, evening classes or tutorial instruction. Homebound instruction could be considered an appropriate alternative.

The district shall pay the actual cost of the district-proposed alternative education program or an amount equal to 80 percent of the district's estimated current year's average per pupil net operating expenditure, whichever is less. The district will not provide or pay for transportation. The district will enter into a written contract with the program.

If a student, 16 or older, voluntarily withdraws from the school, the district must provide the same documentation of alternative education programs; however, the district has no obligation to pay for such programs.

If a student is not successful in the alternative education program selected or the alternative education programs offered are not accepted by the student and/or parent, there is no obligation to propose or fund other alternatives.
