Board Review of Programs

The Board recognizes that in order to provide the best possible educational program to the district, the programs and status of programs must come under periodic review.

In order to expedite this process, the Board will appoint a citizens' lay committee composed of citizens-at-large, licensed teachers and administrators.

The advisory committee shall consist of not less than 15 members nor more than 20 members. No more than one-third of the total committee shall be members of the administration or staff.

The Board hereby establishes the review process based upon a three-year cycle to review the educational programs and goals of the district and to make recommendations to the Board.

The Board specifically reserves the right to accept, reject or modify recommendations.
