

Enrollment Projections

Enrollment forecasts shall be prepared annually under the direction of the Superintendent, utilizing current enrollment information supplemented with data furnished by the appropriate planning offices. Methods used in forecasting enrollment may include the following:

1. Principals' reports for current and projected enrollment.
2. Review and evaluation of proposed rezoning.
3. Review of approved building permits.
4. Information submitted by building contractors and developers.
5. Reports indicating anticipated and approved number of dwelling units resulting from submitted site plans.
6. Studies by consultants.
