Income from Program-Related Sales and Services

Certain activities undertaken in the district's career technical education (CTE) programs provide the opportunity for students to charge the public for goods and services. These activities are designed for educational purposes and not to compete with community businesses.

Charges for work performed and goods sold through these CTE activities will be at a competitive regional price for the service or item.

Money collected for the sale of goods or services by students engaged in CTE activities will be deposited in the appropriate district fund and used to offset the cost of any materials used in the manufacturing of the good for sale.
