Dear Students and Parents/Guardians,

The Redmond School District is committed to the use of technology and the Internet for educational purposes. Technology allows teachers to enhance and extend our curriculum in ways that were previously inconceivable. Along with the advantages of using technology also comes the need to educate students about responsibility and safety when using computers, tablets, smartphones and the Internet. The Redmond School District team is committed to providing our students with opportunities to learn and communicate with others, in a safe environment, through a wide range of technology.

In order to comply with federal Children's Internet Protection Act, the district uses robust web filters and device management tools. We also provide digital citizenship toolkits and opportunities for our teachers and students to set, model and follow responsible use guidelines in their classrooms. The district believes in open access to the Internet and its wealth of information. While providing access to these resources, the district makes a concerted effort to only allow access to age appropriate content. The following Responsible Use Policy is meant to set a guide to help students and families make positive choices when interacting online. A copy of the district's policy is attached for your review. Although teachers will review the information in this policy with students, we expect parents to spend some time reviewing it with their student(s), as the rules apply to home usage as well. For additional information on talking with your children about Internet usage, consider the following resources: NET CETERA – Chatting with Kids About Being Online (bit.ly/netcetera) and Common Sense Media (bit.ly/csmparents).

Please read and familiarize yourself with the Responsible Use Policy. Both parents/guardians and students must sign the agreement. The signed copy must be returned to the student's school for our records before devices can go home.

Thank you for being a part of the Redmond School District community. We look forward to supporting the continued growth and success together. If you have any further questions, please contact your school's administrator or the district's technology department.

Best Wishes,

/s/Superintendent

Computer, Network and Internet Use Policy

Overview

Redmond School District provides its students and staff access to a multitude of technology resources. These resources provide opportunities to enhance learning and improve communication within our community and with the global community beyond our campuses. Some of these tools include Google Apps for Education (for more information on Google Apps, please visit bit.ly/gafe), learning management systems and other online resources. With the privilege of access comes the responsibility of students, teachers, staff and the public to exercise personal responsibility in their use of these resources. School district policies are intended to promote the most effective, safe, productive and instructionally sound uses of networked information and communication tools. The Redmond School District also makes a good faith effort to protect its students from exposure to Internet materials that are harmful or explicit. The school district maintains a system of Internet content filtering on district-provided devices at school and at home.

Digital Citizenship

Redmond School District staff and students use technology in meaningful, safe and responsible ways while at school and at home. Digital citizenship means:

Digital storage and electronic devices used for school purposes will be treated as extensions of the physical school space. Administrators, or their designees, may review files and communications (including electronic mail) to ensure that users are using the system in accordance with school district policy. Users should not expect that files stored on district servers, within Google Drive, or on hard disks will be private. Users also should understand that school servers regularly record Internet activity in log files that are available to the public under RSA 91-A: Access to Public Records and Meetings.

Some activities are expressly prohibited by law: Users are expected to abide by the generally accepted rules of network etiquette while at school and at home. The following guidelines are intended to clarify expectations for conduct, but they should not be construed as all-inclusive:

- Use of electronic devices should be consistent with Redmond School District's educational objectives, mission and curriculum.
- Transmission of any material in violation of local, federal and state laws is prohibited. This includes, but is not limited to: copy righted materials, licensed material and threatening or obscene material.
- Intentional or unintentional use of networked resources to access or process proxy sites, pornographic material, explicit text or files, or files dangerous to the integrity of the network is strictly prohibited.
- Software and/or services may not be installed or downloaded on school devices without prior approval of the school's administration.
- Use of computer resources for commercial activities, product advertisement or religious or political lobbying is prohibited.
- Users may be held personally and financially responsible for malicious or intentional damage done to network software, data, user accounts, hardware and/or unauthorized costs incurred.
- Files stored on district-managed networks, Google Apps for Education accounts or on district assigned devices may be inspected at any time and should not be considered private.
- Materials published for electronic publication must be for educational purposes. School administrators, teachers and staff may monitor these materials to ensure compliance with content standards.

Policy Violations

Redmond School District reserves the right to deny or limit access to technology and/or Internet to anyone. Violating any portion of this policy may result in disciplinary action, including temporary or permanent ban on computer or Internet use, suspension or dismissal from school, and/or legal action. The school district may cooperate with law enforcement officers in investigations related to illegal activities conducted through its network.
