Part-time Teachers

Teachers employed less than full-time are considered part-time teachers. They have the same rights and responsibilities as regular teachers. To provide continuity in the instructional program, they are to participate in parent-teacher conferences, in-service programs, open house affairs, field trips and other related activities. Attendance at faculty meetings is expected unless other arrangements are made with the building administrator.

A part-time teacher who "job shares" an assignment with another teacher will be paid his/her per diem rate when employed as a substitute for the other portion of the full-time position.
