Fund Raising

The College is committed to an active program of fund raising including grant writing, cash solicitation and non-cash gift solicitation. Fund raising efforts supplement the College's major revenue sources and allow for growth, innovation and improved services.

Every effort should be made to provide a consistent message to potential donors to avoid duplication of donor contacts, ensure appropriate acknowledgment of gifts and to comply with College policies and state and federal laws.

Short- and long-term implications of all fund raising activities should be carefully reviewed by College staff, including donor restrictions, College matching requirements and long-term funding after the external support ends.
